Feeding Disadvantaged Children Why We Help

of local families with the lowest household income are facing a monthly financial shortfall. They are often in chronic debt with their expenditures growing more than their income, creating further psychological burdens within their family units.¹

Little Ones Lunchbox is our loving response towards local children that are in underprivileged, disadvantaged and hungry families, struggling with challenging and difficult circumstances. Despite a child's innocence because of their young age, many are suffering as adults do.

Feeding Disadvantaged Children Why We Help

Mdm Ratu is 100% visually impaired in both eyes. She works at a small stall selling Indonesian dry foods, contributing to her family's combined meagre income of $1,400 monthly. By partnering with Marine Parade Family Services Centre, we help by providing a daily nutritious meal for her two daughters, significantly reducing her financial burden and pressures to provide for her family.

We only work with MSF and CDC agencies to benefit local children from disadvantaged or low income families. Amidst rising cost of living, inflation and competing needs like healthcare and children's education, food-insecure families often compromise on the quality and variety of their food.¹ We provide for the critical and essential dietary needs of these children. Freeing up their limited resources to meet other needs.

Feeding Disadvantaged Children

How We Help

Lunchbox

Reusable lunchboxes are delivered to the children on a scheduled basis. Each delivery is a week's worth of food put together by our nutritionist, promoting a balanced and healthy child's diet.

Jute Bag

Holding lunchboxes, an eco-friendly jute bag is given to each child's family. Jute is a highly durable and light material, making it an ideal reusable grocery bag and for other necessities.

Nutrition

Our nutritionist puts together each lunchbox, focusing on providing a balanced and healthy diet that is fun and tasty. We curate from donations, food banks and F&B partners to make this possible.

How We Help

Creative Toys

Donated toys that encourage creative play and ownership are included in the lunchboxes periodically. Our Creative team set the stage for the children to tell tactile stories, roleplaying with their imagination. We engage their stories and add to their ongoing adventures.

Books

With our library of donated books, a child's imagination explores new and fantastic people and places. The children will be able to choose from different genres to match their current interests and switch to other books when they wish to.

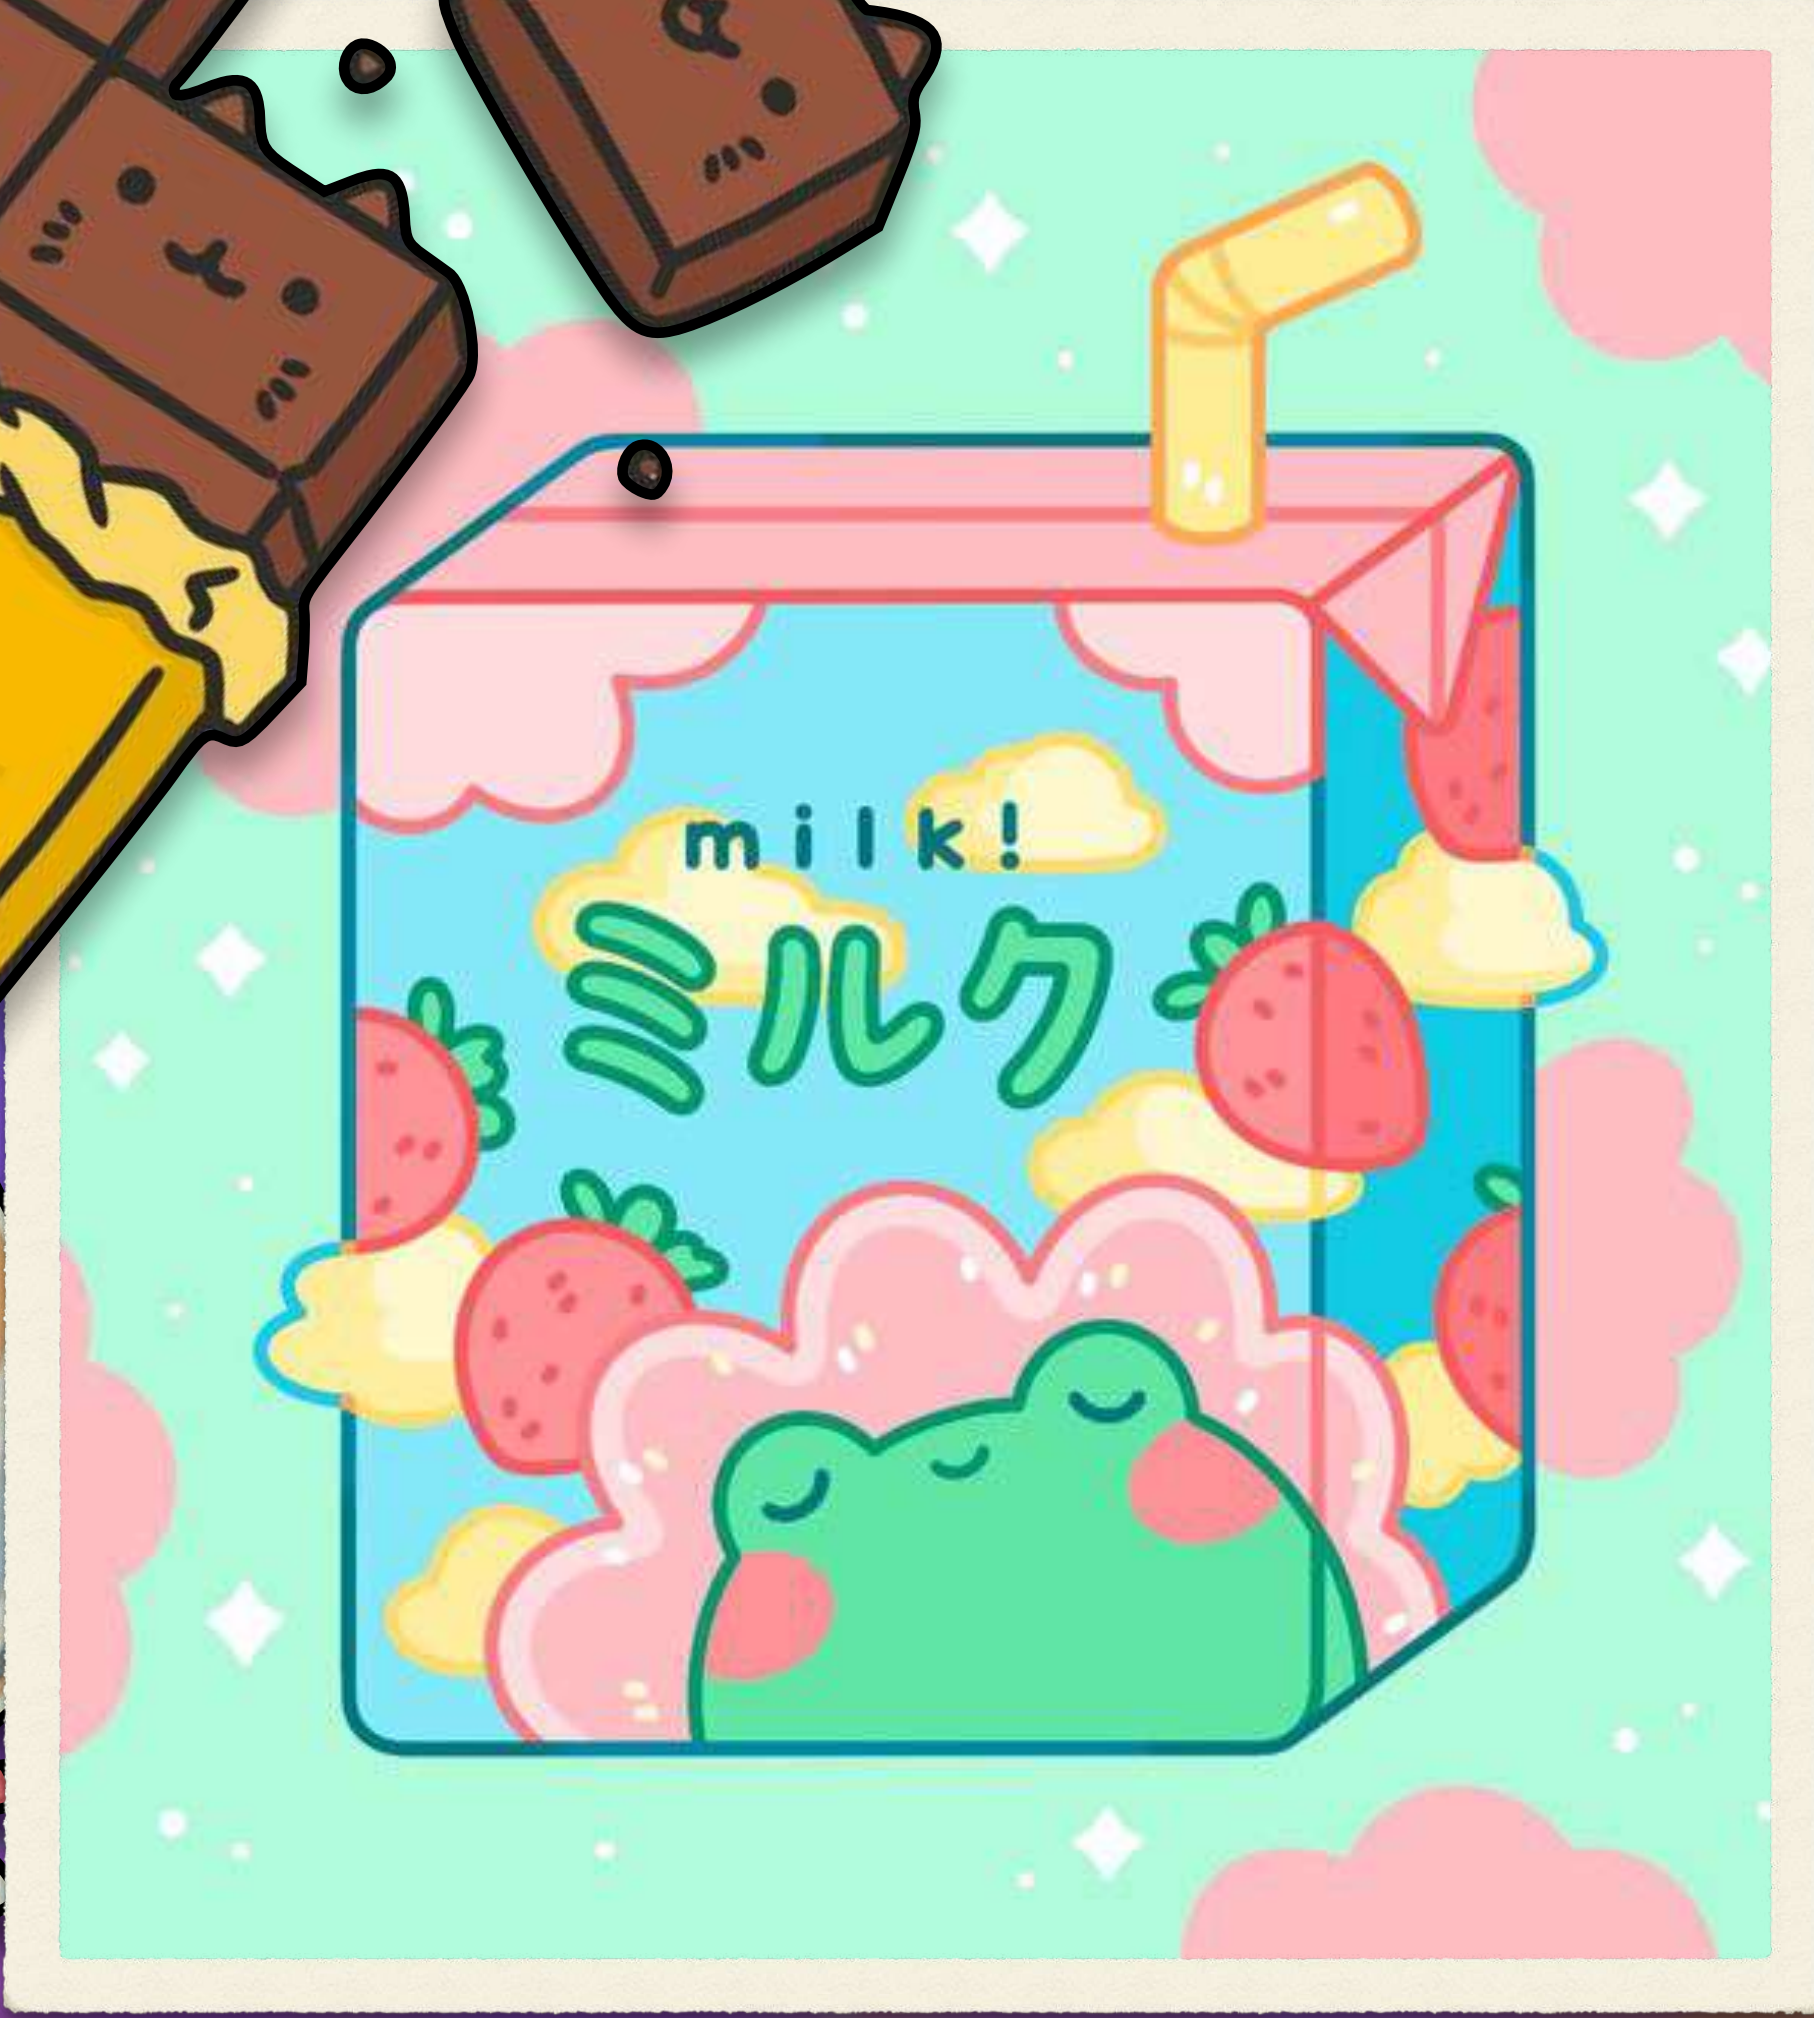

Education

For children who require further assistance beyond food security, we will also help with school fees, educational materials and pocket money for school meals. We will also provide tuition through our team of volunteer teachers.

We Provide Each Child A Complete Meal

We Provide Each Child A Complete Meal

We provide for a child's complete meal that is easily prepared with just a microwave or stove, a consideration that is critical to some disadvantaged families.

Besides a nutritious daily meal, we also provide for healthy snacks, bread, milk, cereal and vitamins for all our beneficiaries.

Feeding Disadvantaged Children What We Believe

In the Bible, there is a famous story where a boy shared his lunchbox of five loaves and two fish because others were hungry and did not bring any food. Through the selfless offering of his lunchbox, Jesus multiplied his lunchbox and made enough food to feed 5,000 more.

We want to have the same faith the boy had. We believe in the blessings a single lunchbox can bring, providing and affirming each child in need. With each lunchbox you help us send out, you are blessing children with future miracles in the making.
